Gosnell, Calgary, of the inland revenue service, visited Edmonton on Monday's train to complete the arrangements for the transfer of the Edmonton business to the new Calgary division of the inland revenue service of which Mr. Gosnell is in charge. They left for the south on Friday's train.
The body of W. Calder an employee of the H. B. Co., who died at lake St. Ann, in November of 1893 and was buried in the cemetery which was then in use on the northwest quarter of section 36 township 22, range 25, and which has since been abandoned, was removed on Monday, Nov. 19th, to the Edmonton cemetery by M. Groat, W. Calder and J. Sinclair. The coffin was perfectly preserved.
A TIMELY offering. The other day Rev. Father Lacombe was the recipient of a very handsome desk, the donation of Mr. Patrick McNamara, who gave an agreeable surprise to his spiritual father. The gift is much appreciated, being a fine ornament of furniture and a great accommodation in the new pastoral mansion of St. Joachim. It is a timely example of kind liberality which others may well follow.
Deliverance of farm produce have been brisk for the past week. Oats are in good demand at 25c to 26c, for cash and on account for food, and up to 27c for milling; feed barley 25c to 26c, malting barley 26c to 27c. Wheat 42c to 43c. Beef is slow at 25c. Pork is being bought for local curing at 40c live weight. Mutton is in poor demand, with no present prospects of shipment. Dressed fowls are in good demand, and the supply is larger and of better quality than usual, turkeys being 13c a pound, geese and ducks 12c and chickens 10c. Butter is getting scarce at 25c, and eggs are scarce at 30c. Hay is worth $4 to $5 a ton for local consumption. No shipments are being made. Dry wood is worth $2.00 a load and coal $2.00 a ton. Sleighing has been good, the weather fine and business generally lively.

UP to the 1st of November nearly 100 homestead entries had been made in the Beaver lake land office during the past season. The Beaver lake land district takes the eastern part of what was formerly the Edmonton land district.

INSTRUCTIONS have been issued from the office of the commissioner of Dominion lands in Winnipeg not to grant homestead entry on lands having more than 25 acres of timber on a quarter section without reference to the Winnipeg office.

TEA meeting in the Methodist church on Tuesday evening next, in aid of the church funds. Tea will be served in the building lately used as a Salvation army barracks and an excellent programme will be rendered in the Methodist church.

E. M. HUBBELL, D. L. S., and party returned to town on Friday, having completed operations for the season. Since leaving town before, Mr. Hubbell has inspected some work at Stony creek in the Beaver hills and traversed Bear lake in the Bear hills south of Wetaskiwin.

C. GALLAGHER is curing a large quantity of bacon this season. Up to the present time it has been sold as fast as cured, but owing to the more general use of fresh meat in winter, he expects the stock to accumulate from now to spring. He only buys live hogs and slaughters them himself.

WE have previously announced that the Salvationists are having their self denial week during the week, December 1st to 8th, and efforts are now being put forth in a practical way, as we conclude from the contents of the "War Cry" and the special pamphlets and appeals which are being distributed by the soldiers and officers. The proceeds of previous self denial weeks in Canada, have been continually increasing, and there are many reasons to believe that this year's effort will exceed the former. Many officers and soldiers have determined to live actually on bread and water—others next to it—in order to raise a good share of the total aimed at. Soldiers have been told off to visit from house to house, and solicit contributions. In other places, the bands have arranged to serenade, and by this means raise something towards the "Target."
W. B. STENNETT purchased a live black fox on Friday, from a settler in the Vermilion district east of Beaver lake. The animal was sold by tender. Mr. Stennett's bid of $45 being the highest. Last spring Mr. Bradley found a fox hole and dug out a litter of four young foxes, two of which were black, one a cross fox and one red. He undertook to raise them all, but the cross and one of the black ones escaped. The red one and the remaining black one he brought to town for sale. They were about half grown. Both have been killed for their fur. Mr. Stennett's reason for killing the black one at once instead of allowing him to grow full size and thereby increase in value, was that in confinement he would be apt to wear his fur in places by rubbing and thereby cause greater loss than the gain by growth.

AN INDEPENDENT OPINION.

The following letter from Edmonton appeared in a recent issue of the Macleod Gazette, and is from the pen of C. E. D. Wood, founder and for a long time editor and still part owner, of the Gazette. Mr. Wood spent some weeks in Edmonton before writing the letter and therefore the opinions expressed are not formed hastily or the facts given based on hearsay:

Three hundred miles north of Macleod, and at the northern terminus of the Calgary & Edmonton railway, is situated the historic town of Edmonton. From its lofty perch on the brink of the north bank of the Saskatchewan river, it overlooks that broad and majestic stream, and the picturesque valley through which it winds. Indeed some of the handsome residences with which the town is liberally supplied, are built on the extreme verge of the lofty cliff, and one almost shudders to think what the consequences might be if this were the land of the lazing and gentle blowing chinook. The railway terminus is on the south side of the river, where a substantial town has grown up, and where building is still in progress. Buses meet the train, and after a lovely drive of two miles, in the course of which the river is crossed by the regulation ferry and two stiff hills overcome, Edmonton is reached. The town boasts of three very good hotels, the principal of which, the Alberta, is presided over by Frank Mariaggi, deservedly noted as one of the best providers and caterers in the territories. Resisting the silver-tongued persuasions of the other hotel runners, I was welcomed by Mons. Mariaggi as an old friend, and given the best in the house.

Edmonton, although pretty well out of the world, is by no means a backwoods town, as many may suppose. It has the characteristic push and enterprise of the modern western town, and is furnished with an excellent electric light system, a good telephone service, and thoroughly equipped fire apparatus. The original electric light plant has been found inadequate for the requirements of the place, and a new 150 horse power engine is now being set up. When this is done, the capacity will be 1,500 lights, and there will be 900 to commence with. At present there are some very fair brick buildings on the main street. Most of the buildings, however, are very ordinary ones, but are rapidly being replaced by the more substantial brick ones. Excellent stone has been found close at hand, and it is thought that most of the buildings erected in the future will be of that material. The main street, running east and west, is built up on both sides for something over half a mile. Within that space property is fairly valuable, lots being held at something like $50 per front foot. The town, like most of our western towns, seems to be growing westward, and if the expectations of the sanguine citizens are realized, there will in a very few years, flourish on the banks of the far away Saskatchewan, a city rivaling Winnipeg. I do not see anything very extravagant in these expectations, for Edmonton is undoubtedly in the centre of one of the grandest districts in North America. The prospects for growth and development are practically limitless. Agriculturally speaking, it is undoubtedly an El Dorado, and if the testimony of those who have removed here from some of the best portions of the U. S. is to be believed, this country surpasses anything south of the line in productiveness, resources and natural beauty. The whole of the surrounding country is thickly timbered, principally with a light growth of poplar, and vegetation of all kinds grows in rank profusion. Grain and roots and vegetable crops yield enormous returns, and frost and drought are rare indeed. While all these things can be grown in the utmost perfection, I fancy that, as far as agriculture is concerned, the Edmonton country will reach its greatest prosperity through mixed farming. When it comes to exporting, it will be found most profitable to convert the agricultural produce into live stock. As far as cattle are concerned, I am told that, generally speaking, and with some noticeable exceptions, the cattle are rather of a low grade, due chiefly I fancy to much better making and poor bulls. With unlimited quantities of cheap feed and with thoroughbred bulls, it seems as if a very large number of prime beef cattle should be shipped out each year, many of them in the early spring, when fat western cattle are extremely scarce. It is said that there is nothing like leather, and I might add that there is nothing like what the leather covers to produce the hard cold cash, as our own southern Alberta ranchmen know. Horses are as much a drug on the market here as they are at Macleod. It is rarely that one can be sold for cash, and those who bring them here must be prepared to take the price of them out in trade, even if they can be disposed of at all. An important industry is about to be started here. Mr. T. A. Stephen, late manager of Lafferty & Monte's bank in Calgary, is making arrangements to go into the pork packing and curing business. He has located some five miles from town, and the necessary buildings, &c., are now in course of construction. When this establishment is in running order, hams, bacon and all the other products of that noble animal, the hog, will be turned out. Although Mr. Stephen's business will be on a fairly large scale, he will not be able to supply the quantity required by the H. B. Co. here alone. Mr. Stephen is embarking on what is undoubtedly a most lucrative enterprise and the results will be awaited with considerable interest.

Edmonton itself is underlain by a vast coal bed, and a half dozen or more mines, under independent ownership, are being worked directly under the town. The result of this is shown in the low price of coal, that very necessary household article being placed in the coalsheds of the fortunate townspeople for $2 per single ton, and when taken in any considerable quantities, for even less. The quality is a good—cleaner than the Lethbridge coal, although it does not last as long. During the past summer about $15,000 in gold has been taken out of the gravel along the river, men making as much as $4 and $5 a day. The coal oil fields to the north are being thoroughly tested, and promise enormous yields. In addition to all this, Edmonton is the far depot for the vast fur producing country to the north, and derives a large profit from this trade.

Living in Edmonton must be remarkably cheap. Flour is made in a large well equipped roller mill on the south side, and while those necessities which have to be imported are as reasonable as elsewhere, fuel and home products are ridiculously low priced. Wheat at the present time fetches 45c a bushel for the best, oats are from 20c to 25c per bushel. Potatoes have been as low as 15c, and can now be bought for from 20c to 25c per bushel. Everything else is in proportion.

One word as to the climate. So far this fall there have only been two or three days of cold weather, the thermometer on those occasions going down to about 18 above zero. The ice began to form in the river, and prevented the ferry from running. This was the week before last. Ordinarily I am told that the river freezes and the snow comes about the middle of this month, and then it is winter steadily until spring. From all that I can gather the winters are much like they are in the province of Quebec, and not much colder as an average. In strong contrast to our country of high winds is the almost perpetual calm of Edmonton. They do have an occasional stiff wind, but never for more than a few hours at a time. It is an undoubted relief to get out of the region of winds for a time, but Macleod, "with all thy faults I love thee still," and am looking forward to the time when the two whistles from the locomotive will give the signal that the throttle is being pulled wide open with the engine headed to the sunny south, the land of the balmy chinook and cowboys.

EDMONTON, Nov. 19th, 1894.

BRIDGE NEWS.

In response to the telegram of the minister of interior stating that the delay in regard to the bridge was occasioned "by conflict amongst your townspeople as to site" the board of trade sent the following telegram to the minister, dated Nov. 16th:

"TO THE HON. T. MAYNE DALY, OTTAWA.
"Your telegram a surprise, no conflict among townspeople as to site. What we want is a bridge across river. Trade is now hampered for want of it. Request name or names of objectors. Town council's recommendation as to site is to best interests of district at large."

To this telegram the following letter in reply was received by last mail:
OTTAWA, 21st Nov. 1894.

DEAR SIR:
In further reference to your telegraphic messages regarding Edmonton bridge matters I enclose herewith copy of a letter which I have received from the deputy minister of public works on the subject. I regret the difference of view which appears to exist in relation to the site, but you will see that in the meantime, no time is being lost in proceeding with the preparation of the plans, which are now I understand nearly finished. Anything I can do to facilitate the progress of this matter will certainly be done.

Yours very truly,
T. MAYNE DALY.

To the Secretary,
Board of Trade,
Edmonton.
DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,
OTTAWA, Nov. 17th, 1894.

SIR. With regard to the telegram sent to you by the Edmonton board of trade on the 8th instant, in connection with the proposed bridge at that place, I beg to say that the preparation of the plans will not cause any delay as they are proceeding very satisfactorily. With reference to the site, however, there appears to be a difference of opinion which will I am afraid much retard the settlement of that question. Two sites have been proposed for the erection of that bridge, one, No. 1, not very far from the terminus of the Calgary & Edmonton railway, in the vicinity of what is called the upper ferry near Fort Edmonton, and site No. 2, near the lower ferry or opposite North Edmonton. Site No. 1 has been recommended by the engineers of this department, and the people of Edmonton desire site No. 2, to be chosen. You will perhaps remember that the vote of $25,000 made by Parliament for this bridge was conditional upon the municipality contributing 25 per cent of the cost, and we have been informed by the mayor of Edmonton that their contribution is conditional upon the fact that the bridge will be constructed on site No. 2, near the lower ferry. This is the way the matter stands now. The question to be decided is whether the site recommended by our engineers will be taken or whether the conditions of the municipality of North Edmonton will be acceded to. I write this in the absence of the minister, as you told me the other morning when I met you, that you desired the information. I am not in position to say what decision the Hon. minister will arrive at in the matter.

I have the honor to be your obedient servant,
A. GOBIEL,
Deputy Minister.

ST. ANDREW'S CONCERT.

There was a large attendance at the St. Andrew's concert on Friday evening. The hall was well filled and an excellent programme was rendered. The proceedings opened with music on the bagpipes by Thos. Hourston, which was encouraged. An address by the president G. J. Kimball followed, in which he said:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: I thank you for your attendance here to-night. We have an excellent programme to offer you and I am sure none will go away feeling sorry they have come. I don't flatter myself that I can make an address very entertaining, and in this respect I only refer to the performance of our pipe and the talented efforts of the ladies and gentlemen to follow. The love of country is a feeling common to all people and I hold with Sir Walter Scott in doubting the existence of any one void of the feeling. However much they may neglect or smother it on occasion, it is sure to assert itself. In the case of Scotchmen it asserts itself very easily and spontaneously. Our society is the oldest one in Edmonton, embracing as it does so many of our old timers and pioneers. We have lately passed through a period of inactivity, but have now reorganized and I am happy to state that we are in a very good position considering the present hard times. We have a meeting once a month, on the second Thursday of each month. Our meetings so far this winter have been taken up by the necessary business of reorganization. We have now a staff of office bearers and an efficient managing committee, who enter on their duties from to-night, the anniversary of the martyrdom of our patron saint, St. Andrew whose name we bear, and they are quite capable of attending to the business of the society; so that hereafter at our meetings, after disposing of the business according to the prescribed order of our constitution, the balance of the evening will be devoted to songs, stories and readings. Our country and the genius of our countrymen has produced such a wealth of song, pawky humor and stirring heroics that we should have no dearth of entertainment. We have no wish however to lessen the feelings of attachment which binds us to the land of our adoption, or as the case may be of our birth; but rather to implant and foster the better principles of the mother country and by being better Scotchmen to become better Canadians. It is not however to amuse ourselves alone that our society and other similar institutions are organized. We have for our motto "Relieve the distressed" and we have in the past done some little good in this direction and hope to do more in the future. If any member or well wisher will kindly bring to our notice any cases of distress amongst our countrymen, they may feel assured that we will do our best for their relief. As some of you may be distressed with the dread of a prolonged address, I will relieve you immediately and proceed with the more pleasant part of the programme.

A selection of Scottish airs on the piano by Mrs. W. Johnstone Walker followed. Song, "The River," A. G. Randall; encore, "Song of Hybris," the Creston. Piano duet, "Caledonian Quadrilles," Mrs. Clark and Miss Jennie Lander; encore, Song, "The Bonnie Bonnie banks o' Loch Lomond," Miss Johnson; encore, "Up in the morning early," Scene from "Rob Roy," Messrs. McIntyre, McAdam and Turnbull. Song, "I'll lo'e na laddie but aye," Mrs. Bennett; encore, "Jock o' Hazeldean," Trio, piano, violin and accordion, Mrs. W. Johnstone Walker, Messrs. Hourston and Andrews, encore, Song, Mrs. Mackenzie "Lang Lang Syne," encore, "Din-na," Song, "Irene Good Night," T. W. Lines; encore, "Marguerite," Highland Fling to the pipes, R. Andrews; encore, Song, "At the ferry," Mrs. Hockley; encore, "To-morrow won't do," Piano duet, "Overture to Zampa," Miss Johnson and Mr. Andrews. Song, original, R. McIntyre, "Auld Lang Syne," "God Save the Queen." The piano accompaniments were played by Mr. Andrews. About $50 was realized for the funds of the society.

PRACTICAL POINTERS.

D. R. Ker, of Brackman & Ker, the great oatmeal milling firm of Victoria and Vancouver returned home on Friday's train. Mr. Ker is favorably impressed with the appearance of the oats grown in this district and has arranged for several cars to be shipped to his firm to be experimented on. Should the test prove satisfactory there will be a grand market for Edmonton's best crop on the coast. At present Mr. Ker's firm use about a car of oats a day in their milling business. As mentioned in last issue this firm captured the highest award at the Chicago fair for rolled oats. They therefore want the best that can be got and nothing but the best is of any use to them. Hitherto they have been drawing their supplies from Eastern Washington, and although Edmonton oats are superior in appearance to those of Washington, their milling qualities remain to be demonstrated. The firm prefers a long oat, not particularly hard in the grain; whereas the object here has been to produce short, plump, hard grain. Even should the Edmonton oats turn out to be first class for milling purposes Mr. Ker says the freight rates are against us to the extent of about a dollar or a dollar and a half a ton as compared with Eastern Washington oats, even after the latter paying the duty. If the freight rates were reduced from 35c per hundred as at present, to 28c as requested by the board of trade memorial of last year to the C. P. R., which rate is what Edmonton is entitled to on the same mileage basis as the rate quoted eastward, we would then be able to compete in our own country with foreign produce. Why this reduction is not made in the interests of the C. P. R. itself it is hard to see. If Coast consumers cannot buy in Canada and must buy in Washington the C. P. R. gets no profit on the haul, whereas if the rates permitted them to buy in Edmonton not only would the railway profit on the grain consumed, but the amount produced would be greatly increased. There is also a good demand for barley for feed purposes on the coast, but the case is exactly the same as with oats, the freight rate is in the way. The case in regard to wheat differs somewhat from that in regard to oats and barley. The coast mills mix Manitoba No. 1 hard with soft Washington wheat in the proportions of one Manitoba to two Washington. If the quality of the Edmonton wheat turns out to be equal to Manitoba for this purpose it would have only Manitoba competition and could therefore be sold. But if it does not prove to be suitable for mixing, it would not stand the carriage as against the cheaper Washington wheat. A great drawback to its usefulness in this respect is the fact that there are so many kinds mixed together. Red life and red life only, properly cleaned, is wanted at the coast under present freight rates.

TOWN COUNCIL.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 28th.

A communication was read from Beck & Emery re municipal rates.

The finance report was read and adopted as follows:

CHURCH OPENING.
The opening services of the South Ed-monton Presbyterian church took place yesterday. The attendance was large at all three services, and the collections amounted to $30.00. The morning service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Herdman, of Calgary, who preached from the 6th verse of the 4th chapter of Jeremiah. Rev. G. W. Dean, pastor of the Methodist church, Edmonton, preached in the afternoon from John, 12th chapter and 32nd verse. In the evening Rev. Mr. Herdman preached from the 14th verse of the 30th chapter of Deuteronomy.

A SURE THING.
There is a part of Fraser avenue extending from Jasper avenue to the Eclipse stables, upon which a wide track has been scraped in the snow. The scraping was not very well done; it is not on the centre of the street grade, therefore it is sliding, and neither is it straight, and yet this is one of the most expensive pieces of road in the Territories. The cost is estimated at between $2500 and $3,000, a very large proportion of which was kindly contributed last week by certain liberally disposed citizens of the city of Calgary. It all occurred through a mistake, however, and this is the fashion thereof. There was a very ordinary looking Indian, or more correctly half-breed, living at lake St. Ann, who has been nicknamed and is generally known as "Moosewa," (the Moose). Indians frequently receive their names on account of some distinguishing feature of person, character, or capability, and Moosewa received his according to this rule. He is as ill shapen and ugly as a moose and he can run just about as fast as one. He has run many races at Edmonton in recent years and made a rule of taking first place in all events from 100 yards to a mile. Amongst other events was his outrunning a Calgary champion named Tarrant who came up in August '92 to clean out the town. At last this became monotonous and when the fame of John Allen, long and short distance runner and all around athlete, reached Edmonton last summer, and Allen himself reached Calgary, a number of sportive youths in Edmonton longed to see a race between Moosewa and a man fit to run against him. They were going to be cautious—very cautious—and they would only put up such money as they could afford to lose. A number chipped in $10 a piece to make up a purse and expenses, and a match was arranged for 440 yards to be run at Edmonton. As the time for the race drew near the excitement rose and the very cautious sports men had up a good deal more than they expected to lose—and they lost it. Allen won on his merits without any question, and the noted Moosewa was beaten. So ended the first chapter. Allen returned to Calgary and took up his residence there and as times got dull in the racing business, some of the sports of that town decided to put up a job to get hold of some more Edmonton dollars. Moosewa was challenged to run Allen for 220 yards in Calgary. The race was run and Moosewa won—allowed to win by Allen. A double object was thus gained. The Edmonton sports were inspired with confidence in their man, which had been badly shaken by the result of the race at Edmonton, and Allen had found out just how fast Moosewa could run 220 yards—that is to say he thought he had. So when the challenge that was expected from Edmonton arrived in due course—the Edmonton suckers bit—Calgary was prepared to go in and win all the money there was in town by betting on Allen. They had it down fine, oh so fine. It was a dead sure thing. The Edmonton innocents put up their money with child-like confidence—just put it up for the other fellows to take away. At last the hour for the race came. T. Carney was starter, Messrs Garham and Brosseau referees and Messrs Jackson and Goodridge judges. Allen won the toss for position, giving Moosewa the sideling and longer side of the track. The men took hold of a handkerchief, one at each end, and made a running start. Allen taking a good lead. The race was from the Eclipse stables to the Alberta hotel. For two thirds of the distance Allen kept slightly ahead, then Moosewa passed him and ran in apparently an easy winner by about two feet. The time was not accurately taken but is placed at 24 1/2 seconds. The explanation of the result is that Moosewa ran a little faster than Allen; and the moral is, "don't bet, and particularly don't bet on a sure thing." If sure things existed in racing there would not be any racing, neither would there be any betting.

The Dominion freight rate commissioners now in Winnipeg have published the following notice, signed by H. H. Schaeffer, secretary:
Calgary Tribune: Three prairie schooners passed through here on their way north this afternoon. They left Kansas on the 14th of August for Alberta and the whole outfit arrived in good order.
"The commissioners appointed by the Dominion government to enquire into the charge concerning railway rates in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories are now in Winnipeg, and request that all parties who desire to be heard in this matter will at once place themselves in communication with the undersigned."

Calgary Tribune: A pleasant little party gathered at Mr. R. L. Alexander's the other evening to commemorate the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding. The family circle was complete and with the company of a few friends to dinner, the happy event was made the occasion of a delightful time.
Of 35 head of cattle in charge of the Mounted Police at Estevan whose terms of quarantine expired lately, and were treated by the new tuberculin lymph, 12 have shown signs of reaction. Minister of agriculture has ordered that the cattle cannot be allowed to enter the Dominion.

Mr. Wm. Ogilvie, the well known surveyor, is about to survey the Yukon river and inlet with a view to seeing what improvements are necessary towards making it available for getting men and supplies into the Yukon River country. In the event of its being decided to send a detachment of Mounted Police into the Yukon district it is considered that this will be far more expedient than via St. Michaels, as it will save a month in time.
